January 2017

The President Speaks By Christopher Stacy

Optimism. As the New Year begins, there is usually a renewed optimism for what lies ahead. New Year Resolutions are set in motion and everyone is given another chance to do the things they didn't accomplish last year.

As I write this today, WTI is at $53 and rigs are slowly beginning to come back...things are looking up.

What are you optimistic about this year?

What are you going to do professionally and in your personal life this year to better yourself, the company and your family?

At AADE we are excited about the upcoming year and are committed to bringing you the best speakers we can find.

We are optimistic about the upcoming year and hope you are as well.
