ABOUT THE SPEAKER: Craig Castille earned a degree in petroleum engineering (Cum Laude) from UL Lafayette, then USL, in 1985. Prior to graduating, he worked as a roughneck, directional well planner and later held multiple positions in mining (sulphur, copper and gold) and oil and gas.

While with Freeport McMoRan, Castille worked as a drilling engineer, tramway superintendent, chief engineer and MP-299 Sulphur oil and gas drilling superintendent. After Freeport McMoRan moved to CNG Production Company (Dominion & ENI Petroleum), he worked as a drilling and completions engineer, engineering supervisor and drilling manager.

After the transition from Dominion to ENI, Castille worked as the in-country drilling and completions manager in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. In 2010, he joined Stone Energy in Lafayette as a deepwater drilling engineer and is currently the director of drilling and completions.

The F5 is a unique, competitive oilfield cook-off giving cook teams the opportunity to show off their culinary skills and favorite recipes. There are four divisions – Fin, Feather, Fur and Dessert along with People’s Choice. There will be approximately 40 teams competing and serving samples of food from hors d'oeuvre, soups, gumbos, entrees and desserts.

The teams will be judged by a panel of local chefs. Judging will begin at 3 p.m. Trophies are given to first, second and third places in each division. Showmanship is awarded to the top three teams that decorate their area and will hold title until the next F5 event.

Each team furnishes ingredients and prepares a dish from scratch no earlier than 36 hours prior to the event. This is an adult-only oil and gas industry event and is not open to the general public.

The evening will be filled with great food and fun, along with beer and wine tasting.

Proceeds from the event will help fund lab enhancements and other educational efforts at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette, Louisiana State University and Nicholls State University.

McLeod Shares Thoughts on Efficiencies Learned in Chevron's Thailand Drilling Projects at March General Meeting

Special thanks to Scott McLeod of Chevron for his presentation, Chevron’s Thailand Performance Drilling - What Can Be Applied to Any Operation, which he shared this week at the Petroleum Club of Lafayette at another well-attended AADE event. McLeod spoke at the March AADE Lafayette Chapter General Meeting, sharing many thoughts on efficiency and fielding questions from the audience. It was a great presentation with takeaways applicable across many industries! McLeod, center, was presented with a gift of appreciation by AADE Lafayette Chapter President
